This is one of the first publications we give the parents to these children. I would highly recommend this book every time. Good service from the seller, prompt delivery, honest transaction.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Definitely recommend it to all parents with blind or visually impaired ...By CustomerThis book has been very helpful in raising our 5 year old blind son. Definitely recommend it to all parents with blind or visually impaired kids.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Nice BookBy Marley's MomI haven't had a chance to read this thoroughly, but when I skimmed through it I liked what I saw!! It seems like it will have a lot of good information! Can't wait until I have time to actually read it!! One of the better "guide for parents" books I have found!!

Consumer health text provides a resource for parents of children who are blind, legally blind, or have low vision. Topics include visual impairment, medical issues, child development, nurturing self-esteem, early intervention, special education, legal issues, literacy, and more. Previous edition: c1996. Softcover.

This publication surpasses its goal as a parents' guide and can also serve as a reference for professionals. --Canadian Journal of Occupational Therapy, Volume 74, No.56, December 2007About the AuthorM.
