3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. so much infoBy Kalyn O.fast shipping, great resale value, so much info and knowledge, i used it to study for my emt entrance exam and passed so it did what i bought it for. Have a few people offereneing to buy it but i actually think i may keep it.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. book was as expectedBy Shayna S.I needed it for my EMT test and passed with no problems. It is a little expensive for me paperback.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy ReganDelivered exactly as described

This textbook and its ancillary features provide a clearly written, comprehensive package based on the Department of Transportations 40-hour First Responder curriculum. The focus of the course is to teach individuals how to recognize the seriousness of a victims condition and safely administer appropriate emergency medical care for life-threatening injuries relative to airway, breathing, and circulation. This text includes skills and information that meet and sometimes exceed the DOT curriculum objective. Written by an educator who trains various levels of EMS professionals, Barbara Aehlert knows her audience well and writes to their level. Information is presented in a well-organized format that is very accessible, and is richly supported by illustrations that are key to learning. This text is written for public safety personnel as well as athletic trainers, ski patrol teams, lifeguards, and the like.

About the Author Barbara Aehlert is the President of Southwest EMS Education, Inc. in Phoenix, Arizona and Pursley, Texas. She has been a registered nurse for more than 30 years with clinical experience in medical/surgical and critical care nursing and, for the past 18 years, in prehospital education. Barbara is an active CPR, First Aid, ACLS, and PALS instructor and takes a special interest in teaching basic dysrhythmia recognition to nurses and paramedics. She is a consultant with the Southwest Ambulance paramedic program in Mesa, Arizona, and an active member of the Pursley, Texas, Volunteer Fire Department.
