Bolton Much research has been done on how smells affect our physiology and essential oils are concentrated essences that are extracted from natural source like flowers, seeds, fruits and trees. These essences can be calming, invigorating, can reduce anxiety, increase relaxation are great when used with massages, in a bath, or just available to be smelled in a room. The author, Sheryl Louis has researched this topic very well and has set up her book with oils that are Invigorating and Stimulating like Sweet Basil, Eucalyptus and Tea Tree for example. and those that are Relaxing and Calming like Lavender, Chamomile and Sandalwood. She has a page or two on several dozen essential oils for each category. For instance, Sandalwood is a relaxant, anti-depressant, a good astringent and works for urinary infections and skin problems. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.
