

(Free pdf) Ethics in Community-Based Elder Care

Ethics in Community-Based Elder Care

Martha B. Holstein PhD

*audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

 Download

 Read Online

#3230796 in Books Springer Publishing Company 2001-01-15 Ingredients: Example Ingredients Original language: English PDF # 1 9.36 x .93 x 6.201, 1.30 #File Name: 0826122973320 pages | File size: 33.Mb

Martha B. Holstein PhD : Ethics in Community-Based Elder Care before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ethics in Community-Based Elder Care:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Good choice for reading about eldfer careBy Nothin' Could be Fina'This book of articles or essays is quite good. The collection is varied and well written for bot professionals and casual readers.6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Caring-based ethics for community practiceBy S MolonyThis text is highly relevant to anyone involved with elder care in community settings. Care managers and home care givers will particularly benefit from the comprehensive discussions of topics such as paid family caregivers, prejudice in home care, multigenerational households, the ethical importance of home care and organizational ethics. As a researcher interested in quality of life in the elderly and as a facilitator of ethics consultations in a care management organization, I found the content highly relevant to everyday practice. It is an invaluable reference.

Caring for elders outside of institutions is the fastest growing sector of US health care. Building on their research study at the Park Ridge Center, editors Holstein and Mitzen, together with a team of experts, examine the complexities involved in developing an ethics for community-based long-term care. They also challenge policymakers to make home care a more viable option for older people in need. Chapters address many of the ethical and practical problems that arise in the care of older people with physical and mental disabilities--including how to allocate scarce funds, how to keep good caregivers, how to balance concerns of autonomy, risk and safety, and worker stress. The volume is an excellent resource for practitioners, policymakers, and students.

From the Back Cover "Caring for elders outside of institutions is the fastest growing sector of US health care. Building on their research study at the Park Ridge Center, editors Holstein and Mitzen, together with a team of experts, examine the complexities involved in developing an ethics for community-based long-term care. They also challenge policymakers to make home care a more viable option for older people in need. Chapters address many of the ethical and practical problems that arise in the care of older people with physical and mental disabilities--including how to allocate scarce funds, how to keep good caregivers, how to balance concerns of autonomy, risk and safety, and worker stress. The volume is an excellent resource for practitioners, policymakers, and students. "