

(Ebook free) Nursing Home Administration: Fifth Edition

Nursing Home Administration: Fifth Edition

James E. Allen PhD MSPH NHA IP
*DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub*

 Download

 Read Online

#1161331 in Books Springer Publishing Company 2007-12-07 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.00 x 1.50 x 6.30l, 2.25 #File Name: 0826153941688 pages | File size: 55.Mb

James E. Allen PhD MSPH NHA IP : Nursing Home Administration: Fifth Edition before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Nursing Home Administration: Fifth Edition:

7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. CAN YOU SAY "TYPO" By Cyclingmasterseller I'll be short and sweet about this. So you wanna be an LNHA, I suggest you get a hold of a lot more reading material than just this book. James Allen should be ashamed of his publisher -- there are millions of typos in it, and it is written straight out of the mind of a PH.D. The book is very convoluted, but does contain much needed information you'll have to have for the NAB test. So too, you should buy the NAB book, along with a book by Hacker. Get ready to take a loan out, these books are not cheap. Then comes the test at $440.00, then another $250.00 for your license. Oh yeah, be sure to buy the test book that comes with this book (for an additional $35.00 or so), it does help. In sum, I wish studying for the NAB was assigned a single text written in an exact format for which the test was exactly written. How it stands now there are at least three (3) texts (2 listed above and Allen's book) which I strongly recommend -- skip any others, you'll be spending money needlessly! Good luck to us all and God bless America -- what's left of it. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Overview and planning sections are good. By RELLs The Overview and planning sections are good. The book presents some very broad topics and unique situations for Nursing Home Administrators. I would recommend the read for someone studying for Nursing Home Administrator licenses. Without a lot of real specific plans, the book does take you through situations that require some real skills and thinking for the Nursing Home Administrator. I will recommend some Healthcare Management and Financial Management subject matter books in addition to this book to get some specifics on how to put together some Financial plans. Also, understanding of the Clinical Skills of your facility takes some additional study, not completely provided in this book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I bought the digital version of this book but its saying now ... By Customer I bought the digital version of this book but its saying now that i have :45 minutes left!!!!???? Why is there a time limit if i bought it?!

The book in its first four editions is a classic in the field, representing a 'gold standard.' --James H. Swan, PhD, Department of Applied Gerontology, University of North Texas This is a good review of the area of gerontology and is an excellent guide to better practice in nursing home administration." --Doody's Like its very successful predecessors, this highly readable new edition contains the knowledge essential to prepare for licensure and employment as a nursing home administrator. The author uses the format of the licensing examination and the guidelines of the National Association of Boards of Examiners of Nursing Home Administrators as the basis for the text. The fifth edition has been extensively updated and revised to reflect the wealth of new legislation and regulations passed since the publication of the last edition in 2002; offers compelling new information on a wide array of topics, and adds several expanded sections. New to the Fifth Edition: MANAGEMENT: Major emphasis on the current state or federal regulations and their impacts on the nursing home industry 2006 industry data from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid A series of trend analyses for years 1993, 1999 and 2006 Updates of Quality measures used by CMS Inclusion of numerous websites important to long term care which facilitate the reader exploring various topics in more depth Section on the acronyms currently in use in the long term care industry Scope and Severity grid now included in text HUMAN RESOURCES: Trend data for 1993, 1999, 2006 in each of departmental areas of the nursing facility Expanded treatment of the nursing department functions New diet data FINANCE: New risk management data New Sections on: Corporate Compliance Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ENVIRONMENT: More in-depth analysis of the possible impacts on the Baby Boomer generation on the nursing facility Updated section on major organizations in the long term care field New Medicare Plan D section Updated information on the various government acts and unionization data New Life Safety Code section: 2000 Life Safety Code (replacing the earlier version used in previous editions of the text) RESIDENT CARE: Updated drug lists Updated information on prevalence and incidences of diseases among the aging Updated levels of disability data to June 2006 NEW SECTIONS: Distinguishing Delirium from Dementia Distinguishing between Psychosis and Agitation GERD Glycemic control Hand washing data EXPANDED SECTIONS: Decubitus ulcers Urinary Tract Infections Depression

"This 5th edition... continues to be one of the best texts in the field of nursing home administration. It incorporates a scholarly treatment of the five Domains of Practice developed by the National Association of Boards of Examiners for Long Term Care Administrators. This text is a good review of the core of knowledge of gerontology. Insights gained from mentors active in the field of nursing home administrators are incorporated in this text. ...I find the Allen text meets the learning needs of the entry level administrator. The reader will find the scope of the text to be challenging to his/her knowledge base, in addition to being an enhancer of personal philosophy of care and operation of the nursing facility. Studying this text will strengthen the administrator's ability to meet the demands of the regulations and residents. Open this text, begin your journey to richer understandings of the important field of nursing home administration." --From the foreword by Philip S. Brown, ThM, MA, NHA From the Publisher This 5th edition... continues to be one of the best texts in the field of nursing home administration. It incorporates a scholarly treatment of the five Domains of Practice developed by the National Association of Boards of Examiners for Long Term Care Administrators. This text is a good review of the core of knowledge of gerontology. Insights gained from mentors active in the field of nursing home administrators are incorporated in this text. ...I find the Allen text meets the learning needs of the entry level administrator. The reader will find the scope of the text to be challenging to his/her knowledge base, in addition to being an enhancer of personal philosophy of care and operation of the nursing facility. Studying this text will strengthen the administrator's ability to meet the demands of the regulations and residents. Open this text, begin your journey to richer understandings of the important field of nursing home administration." --From the foreword by Philip S. Brown, ThM, MA, NHA

From the Back Cover""The book in its first four editions is a classic in the field, representing a 'gold standard.'"--James H. Swan, PhD, Department of Applied Gerontology, University of North Texas
"This is a good review of the area of gerontology and is an excellent guide to better practice in nursing home administration."--Doody's
Like its very successful predecessors, this highly readable new edition contains the knowledge essential to prepare for licensure and employment as a nursing home administrator. The author uses the format of the licensing examination and the guidelines of the National Association of Boards of Examiners of Nursing Home Administrators as the basis for the text. The fifth edition has been extensively updated and revised to reflect the wealth of new legislation and regulations passed since the publication of the last edition in 2002; offers compelling new information on a wide array of topics, and adds several expanded sections.
New to the Fifth Edition:
MANAGEMENT :Major emphasis on the current state or federal regulations and their impacts on the nursing home industry
2006 industry data from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid
A series of trend analyses for years 1993, 1999 and 2006
Updates of Quality measures used by CMS
Inclusion of numerous websites important to long term care which facilitate the reader exploring various topics in more depth
Section on the acronyms currently in use in the long term care industry
Scope and Severity grid now included in text
HUMAN RESOURCES: Trend data for 1993, 1999, 2006 in each of departmental areas of the nursing facility
Expanded treatment of the nursing department functions
New diet data
FINANCE: New risk management data
New Sections on: Corporate Compliance
Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002
ENVIRONMENT: More in-depth analysis of the possible impacts on the Baby Boomer generation on the nursing facility
Updated section on major organizations in the long term care field
New Medicare Plan D section
Updated information on the various government acts and unionization data
New Life Safety Code section: 2000 Life Safety Code (replacing the earlier version used in previous editions of the text)
RESIDENT CARE: Updated drug lists
Updated information on prevalence and incidences of diseases among the aging
Updated levels of disability data to June 2006
NEW SECTIONS :Distinguishing Delirium from Dementia
Distinguishing between Psychosis and Agitation
GERD
Glycemic control
Hand washing data
EXPANDED SECTIONS: Decubitus ulcers
Urinary Tract Infections
Depression"